

FRESHFARM

SEEKING FARSI AND/OR ARABIC FOOD ACCESS TRANSLATOR

Are you a local food fan who is fluent in Farsi and/or Arabic?

Help us translate Food Access program materials!

Your time and expertise will help make fresh, healthy produce more accessible to those in need.

THE DETAILS: FRESHFARM is seeking translators to support our food access work, including our Fresh Match and Produce Plus programs as well as Virginia's Senior FMNP. We are looking for contractors (project based; $22/hour) or volunteers excited about one or more of the following:

- Translate FRESHFARM food access communications materials (flyers, social media posts, newsletters, etc.)
 - Projects can be done remotely; access to a personal laptop or tablet is required
- Provide responsive translation and / or interpretation for food access program participants via email and/or phone to ensure that customers receive effective support from FRESHFARM and other local food access providers:
 - This work can be done remotely; access to a personal smartphone, laptop, or tablet is required
- OPTIONAL IN PERSON WORK: Provide in-person translation support for customers at local farmers markets:
 - Markets are located throughout Washington, DC, Maryland, and Virginia; and happen throughout the week & weekends
 - Markets operate outdoors - rain or shine - all year round

WHY JOIN THE TEAM?

- Help FRESHFARM achieve our mission of creating a more equitable, vibrant, sustainable, and resilient food future by facilitating food access and community building through our farmers markets and distribution programs
- Build vibrant relationships with staff, vendors, customers, and other local community members from all walks of life
- Access an abundance of peak-season local foods at market!

INTERESTED?

Submit your information here!